Late General News.

It is probable that John Brougham will die very soon. He is one of the first actors of his time in some lines of acting, and a man of wonderful literary genius. He is a native of Dublin, Ireland, is 70 years old, and was a graduate of Trinity College of Dublin.

LATER.—It is now said that Brougham is improving.

The Winstead (Conn.) Herald puts at the head of its columns Ulysses S. Grant and Joseph R. Hawley of Connecticut, and adds significantly. "But candidly—wouldn't a Grant pill set pretty well on the Republican stomach if sugar-coated by General Hawley?" There are over the country a great many quiet friends of Gov. Hawley who recognize him as one of the safest and best statesman of the day.

The Sherman Club of Cincinnati, about 200 strong went to Chicago, with a brass band of 36 pieces, and were received at the Palmer House by the Ohio delegation with brilliant festivities.

It is curious that an elevated railroad was devised in Ohio 1,050 miles long, and actually built two thirds of the way from Cleveland to Toledo. It stood on piles and posts, and had stringers with iron strap rails.

M. DeLesseps in a speech before the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce expressed himself as being very confident of the success of the Panama canal enterprise. He said he proposed to offer to the British public £166,000 worth of shares of the stock, but did not care whether or not they were taken, as he could get plenty of funds; that he was not asking for money, but offering it. His speech was much applauded.

It seems that at no time have the government of the United States had in charge the remains of Washington or those of his wife Martha. But in December 1799 Congress passed a resolution, providing for the erection of statuary in group commemorating the career of Washington, in the Capitol, under which his remains were to be deposited. In 1832 John C. Calhoun, then Vice-President, addressed a letter to Geo. Washington Parks Curtis asking permission to carry out the provisions of the resolution of 1799. The consent was given both by Mr. Curtis and John A. Washington, but no further steps were ever taken.

CONCLUDED FROM FIRST PAGE.

JUNE 5.

At 2:20 yesterday morning the committee on credentials concluded its labors by voting to report in favor of the sitting delegates from West Virginia and Utah, and contesting the delegates from the ninth district of Pennsylvania, and the thirteenth district of Illinois. It refused to interfere with the delegates at large, or those from the second district of Illinois. A resolution declaring that the Springfield convention was a legally constituted body and in selecting delegates to the National Convention acted in good faith, was rejected by a vote of 27 to 17, two not voting.

Mr. Conkling rose to offer a resolution in the hope there would be no objection to it. If there should be any objection he should ask the roll to be called. The following is the resolution:

Resolved, as the sense of this convention, that every member of it is bound in honor to support its nominee, whoever that nominee might be, and that no man should hold his seat here who is not ready so to agree. [Cheers and applause.]

The resolution was adopted, ayes 716, nays 3.

Mr. Conkling said he wanted to offer another resolution, which he would reduce to writing in a moment, as follows:

Resolved, That the delegates who have voted that they will not abide the action of the convention do not deserve to have, and have forfeited their votes in the convention. [Subdued applause and some hisses.]

After a somewhat earnest debate, in which Messrs. Campbell of West Virginia, Hale of West Virginia, Brandagee of Conn., McCormick of West Virginia, Young of Tennessee, and Gen. Garfield, participated, Mr. Conkling withdrew the resolution

Mr. Garfield, from the committee, reported the rules recommended for the government of the convention. The rules were read by sections. One which forbids any unit rule was received with applause. Mr. Garfield said he did not understand that these rules were now up for discussion, but only for information. The only change from the rules of 1876 were verbal merely, or effected their arrangement in a more convenient order, except that the committee had added to what was now numbered as rule 8, a provision clearly and explicitly embodying the uniform precedents of all precedents of all previous Republican conventions, as to the manner of taking votes of states that are divided.

The committee on Credentials reported, recommending the admission of contestants from the Seventh Alabama District; also, of the contestants from the First, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Thirteenth, and Seventeenth Districts of Illinois, and the contestants from the Second and Third Kansas Districts. They also report against the contestants in the Ninth and Nineteenth Pennsylvania Districts and recommend that the delegates from Utah retain their seats.

Mr. Haymond, of Cal., said he never before knew a man—referring to Logan—to object to a unanimous judgment in his own favor. The gentleman seemed to think that the report of this committee insulted the state of Illinois. His reply to that was that a citizen of Illinois was too apt to confound himself with the state of Illinois. (Loud laughter and cheers, half the audience rising and shouting.) It had been stated in the papers presented to the committee that as to the Springfield convention it was hard to tell whether it was the state of Illinois or of John A. Logan that held that convention. (Renewed laughter and applause.)

Mr. Logan said he could not be affected by innuendoes picked up in the slums of Chicago. He defied the men who undertook to assail him, and was ready to meet them anywhere. He then proceeded to explain and defend at considerable length his action in the Springfield convention.

After some further remarks by Mr. Haymond, who denied having made any attack on Mr. Logan, a motion by Mr. Sharpe to strike out the majority report so much of it as implied that there was any contest regarding the Illinois delegation at large was adopted.

The convention then engaged in a long debate, lasting far into the night.

The Supreme Court will meet tomorrow. The two first days of the term will be devoted to the examination of candidates to practice law. The names of eleven candidates have already been registered with the Clerk of the Court.

The Hon. W. P. Canaday of this city, one of the delegates at large from this state, now at the National Convention at Chicago, has been designated by our delegation, as the member of the National Republican Committee for the next four years from the state of North Carolina. The term of the old National Committee expires with the organization of the present Convention, and no longer exists. Mr. Canaday was put on the new National Committee in place of Col. Thos. B. Keogh whose term has expired, he having occupied that place for four years. Of course he will no longer be the Secretary of the Committee as it required that that officer shall be a member of it, in order to hold that place.

BURGAW, N. C., June 3, 1880.

EDITOR POST:—In scanning the pages of your valuable paper of last Sunday's issue, May 30th, I notice a communication from Long Creek signed "A Good Republican." His start off is very good and sounds exactly like "A Good Republican," but before closing he leaves too much to the other side of the fence. He says "the present Register of this county, it is well known, has not come up to the requirements of the law in settling up with the county, and now a rank Democrat has charge of the office." These words are well and truthfully spoken and a great pity, both for the unfortunate man and the county that such is the case. "A Good Republican" adds further, "and I'll suggest the name of Gratlan Williams, Esq., &c., to fill the office of Register of Deeds." "He is a Democrat from principle I know," &c., &c. I shall feel under many obligations if "A Good Republican" will show me the consistency in the above. A Republican Register of Deeds falls behind in his returns of collections to the county. A Democrat (and the present Probate Judge) is on his bond; this Democratic bondsman and Probate Judge takes charge of the Register's office to save his own pocket, and then our friend "A Good Republican" jumps up and shouts for Republican franchise to make a Democrat Register of Deeds of Pender county, presenting no special claim except that he is a Democrat from principle. This is all right so far as it goes, if there is a principle in it, and I imagine there is one—and a devilish bad one for the laboring, hard working honest classes.

Pender is now in a condition and position to elect good, honest and competent REPUBLICANS to fill every office in the county by an overwhelming majority, and if "A Good Republican" and all other good and honest men will come boldly to the front, shoulder to shoulder and push with fearless strength, we will astonish the nations. More upon this and other subjects later.

THE WILMINGTON POST.

P. CANADAY, Ed'r & Prop'r.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, JUNE 6, 1880.

The statement of the Public Debt of the United States put out over the signature of Secretary Sherman on the last day of last May shows a decrease of the National Debt during that month of $15,928,033.87 and a decrease since June 30th 1879 of $74,820,586.52.

We publish in another column the act recently passed by Congress relating to marshals. It ought to be entitled, as it is, "An Act to Encourage Fraud and Intimidation at the Polls."

It is well-known that Prof. Kerr, the State Geologist, analyzed the well-water of this city and declared it not fit to drink. Can't somebody try the experiment of an artesian well here? Some of the wells in Charleston are more than 2,000 feet deep, but some of those in San Francisco are not fifty feet deep. They must be sunk deep enough to reach a pure vein of water, that has in it no lime, nor other deleterious quality. If some enterprising man will sink an artesian well in this city, it will pay better dividends than the sound railroad, or the Duplin canal.

There certainly seems to be no reason on the part of the Democrats for dragging the personal record of Capt. R. A. Shotwell before the public, with unfavorable criticism, because he says that his name shall not "go before the convention if there be any likelihood of a contest, or wrangling, or embittered opposition." But on the other hand the reasons assigned by Capt. Shotwell for being entitled to the nomination for Auditor, in a card which he has published, are in very bad taste. We do not suppose that even Gov. Jarvis would desire to introduce an element into the Democratic state ticket which would look like an endorsement of kukluxism, which has been denounced by more than a dozen of the most eminent Democrats of the state, in a public proclamation to the people. The less discussion we have in the coming canvass on disagreeable subjects the better.

The Court of Inquiry in the Whittaker case has come to seven findings to the effect as a totality, that Whittaker was the author of the letter of warning, and that he bound himself, cut himself, and was the sole author of the outrage which he alleged had been committed upon him by others. These findings are founded entirely upon circumstantial evidence. We confess to the logical conclusiveness of the Court being hard to rebut, but if these findings are to be accepted, this youthful hybrid has elevated himself into one of the most unique characters in all history. Neither in fable nor in the records of human experience, has there been any character exactly like him. He stands out alone, rivalling the impossibilities of the mythologies or the imaginings of romance by a genius so solitary that it accomplished results so unique as to have been never before heard of until the conjurations of this Court of Inquiry. Perhaps at some future time the real facts in this farcical case may come to the light of day.

DOUBLE CONVENTIONS IN WAYNE.

It will be seen that there are published in our columns reports of two County Republican Conventions of Wayne. We publish both of them without comment, not having any information as to the merits of a controversy which will undoubtedly result in two contesting delegations presenting themselves, from that county to the State and the Congressional Conventions.

One of these bodies was presided over by C. A. Scott, while James Tabron and John F. Yelverton were Secretaries, and the other was presided over by W. F. O'B. Robinson, while Jonathan Pearson was Secretary.

Wealth of the Presidents

[Baltimore Gazette.]

Washington left an estate worth $800,000. John Adams died moderately well off. Jefferson died so poor that if Congress had not given $20,000 for his library he would have been bankrupt. Madison was economical and died rich. Monroe died so poor that he was buried at the expense of his relatives in this city. John Quincy Adams left about $50,000, the result of prudence. His son, Charles Francis Adams gained a large fortune by marriage. Jackson died tolerably well off. Van Buren died worth some $300,000. It is said that during his entire Administration he never took any portion of his salary, but on leaving drew the whole $100,000 in a lump. Polk left about $150,000. Tyler married a lady of wealth and accomplishments and died rich. Taylor left about $150,000. Fillmore was always an economical man, and added to his wealth by his last marriage. Pierce saved about $50,000. Buchanan left about $200,000; Lincoln about $75,000; Johnson about $50,000.

In an English court, in the course of an argument, a barrister remarked: "What does Kitty say?" "Who's Kitty?" said the magistrate; "your wife?" "Sir, I mean Kitty, the celebrated lawyer." "Oho," said the magistrate, "I suspect you mean Mr. Chitty, the author of the great work on pleading." "I do sir; but Chitty is an Italian name, and ought to be pronounced Kitty."

HAMPTON AND BUTLER.

It is well known that a southern Bourbon has one style of manners for Washington and another for the cross-road meeting. This is illustrated by Wade Hampton's mode of talking to the delegates to the Charleston county convention. A telegram from Charleston relates this:

He said there was not a single statesman who could at present tell who would be the nominee of the Democratic party for President. Bayard, whose name aroused some applause, was evidently the choice of the Democratic party of South Carolina, and Hampton would be rejoiced if that immaculate statesman could receive the vote of this state on the first and second ballot at least. He also mentioned the names of Judge Field and Hancock in connection with the nomination, and eulogized them. When asked what he would have done if he had been in Tilden's place in 1876, he answered: "I would have been President," which evidently touched a tender spot in the hearts of the delegates, who responded with a genuine "rebel yell." His allusions to Tilden's manipulations to obtain the nomination produced a round of hisses and cat-calls. He said he felt certain that Grant would be nominated by the Republicans, and he was confident he could and would be beaten. "If," he said, "we only repeat the experiments of 1876 in the Electoral College in 1880, the two houses of Congress will see that we are not cheated out of the election. You have a Congress that will see that the minority candidate shall not be seated." Striking a dramatic attitude, he exclaimed at the top of his voice! "Fail! There is no such word as fail: We cannot fail. We must not fail, and we shall not fail. I came home to see and work that 1880 will tell a different tale from 1876." O'Connor's speech created about the only enthusiasm heard in the convention during the entire session, which was frequently adjourned under various pretexts, but actually to enable delegates to visit numerous bar-rooms near by.

It seems that Senator Butler on occasions keeps his cross-roads manners even in the Senate. Senator Rollins on Wednesday week made a speech in the Senate arraigning the southern Democrats for their infamous outrages. The report of the southern associated press gives this of what Mr. Rollins said:

He [Edmunds] was followed by Mr. Rollins, of New Hampshire, in a general attack upon the record of the Democratic party. He quoted from evidence of outrages in the south, and paid special attention to South Carolina, declaring that the "Hamburg massacre" was an unprovoked and unjustifiable attack by southern chivalry upon a parading negro company, whose resentful comments, though not accompanied by violence, served as a pretext for the massacre of the whole town.

On the conclusion of Mr. Rollins' remarks Mr. Butler said: The Senate from New Hampshire has ransacked all the filthy, dirty records in Washington and everywhere else for the purpose of pronouncing a benediction upon my state. I simply desire to say now that what he has said is, from beginning to end, a contemptible calumny upon the character of South Carolina. I shall take occasions hereafter to pay my respects to what the Senator has said. I will not delay the Senate now.

Was ever any audacity equal to this? The facts as to the Hamburg massacre are as well established and as much a matter of history as the battle of Cowpens or Guilford Court House. What Butler had to do with it has been proved by the most incontestible evidence. The bones of those negroes, killed barbarously on that occasion, now lie unburied and bleaching on the sands of Edgefield. Neither a trial, nor an indictment, nor an arraignment has been found against the perpetrators of these foul crimes, although it is perfectly well known in Edgefield who the criminals are and at whose instigation the murders were committed. This is the second time that Butler has publicly denied that there was any truth in the allegations as to those terribly infamous transactions, where five men, after having been kept in confinement several days, were taken out and put to death without the slightest shadow of law, and lie there now unburied. We are not at all inclined to drag before the public these harrowing barbarities, but when they are denied with a mocking audacity that is insulting to the public sense in high places, let the facts be proved in all their horrors.

OUR THIRD DISTRICT

The nomination of Mr. J. W. Shackelford of Onslow, for Congress by the Democratic convention at Fayetteville, over Stedman, McKoy, Allen of Duplin, and Scott of Onslow, took everybody by surprise. Major Stedman had constantly led from the first ballott, when he had a majority of all the votes, until the 32nd ballott when Shackelford got the requisite two thirds vote. He is a man little known to the general public, has no political record beyond a term in each branch of the legislature, and appears either as the inevitable "dark-horse" or as a totally new man against whom nobody had any grudge, and upon whom all could agree.

To an outsider this proceeding looks like a solution of the chronic difficulties among the Democrats in this District, as well as the shelving of Stedman, McKoy, Waddell, Allen, &c., &c. If this is so it gives a new aspect to the canvass in this somewhat famous battle ground. There are at least six Democrats in the District who have personal following enough to defeat this fresh nominee, or who altogether could defeat him with that kind of indifference which defeated Col. Waddell. Major Stedman is a victim of the two thirds rule.

CHICAGO.

The Associated Press telegrams from Chicago on Tuesday morning give a great variety of speculations and some actual business of the National Republican Committee. That body met on Monday evening when Mr. W. E. Chandler of New Hampshire, a member of the committee offered the following resolutions:

Resolved, That this committee approves and ratifies the call for the approaching Republican National Convention which was issued by its chairman and secretary, and which invites two delegates from each Congressional district, four delegates at large from each state, two from each territory, and two from the District of Columbia, to compose the Convention.

Resolved, That this committee recognizes the right of each delegate in the Republican National Convention freely to cast and to have counted his individual vote therein according to his own sentiments, and if he so decide against any unit rule or other instruction passed by a State Convention, which right was conceded without dissent, and was exercised in the Conventions of 1860 and 1868, and was, after full debate, approved by the Convention of 1876, and has thus become a part of the law of Republican Conventions, and until reversed by the Convention must remain the governing principle.

The first resolution was adopted unanimously. To the second resolution Mr. Cameron took exceptions, and it is now under discussion.

Mr. Cameron, as Chairman of the National Committee, refused to entertain the resolution, which was not carried, and on an appeal being asked from his decision refused to put the appeal.

The committee were in session at the close of the dispatches.

The following is the news and the impressions on the mind as they appear to us from what we know this morning, June 2d, the day of the meeting of the committee.

The telegrams in our local morning papers report that Senator Edmunds does not withdraw as reported, that there was up to last night no real adjustment of the dispute on the unit question, and that the anti-unit men held the majority largely in the National Committee. We quote from a telegram:

A member says the conclusions reached were that Cameron should remain chairman of the committee; that regular delegations from Louisiana, Kansas, Utah and Illinois should be admitted to the temporary organization; that the contests in these states should be submitted to the Committee on Credentials, and that the unit rule should be enforced or not, at the pleasure of the Convention; that Conkling, Logan and Cameron have pledged themselves in no way to interfere in regard to the action of the Convention respecting the unit rule.

The New York delegates had met and voted 45 to 23 to abide by the unit instruction.

We do not embarrass our columns with the long details and speculations and gossip which comes like a flood from Chicago.

JUNE 2.

The Convention was called to order at 12 o'clock, and Senator Hoar of Massachusetts, was made temporary chairman. He proceeded to address the Convention reviewing the history of the late war and its political influences and consequences, criticised the policy of the Democratic party in that connection. He claimed that the south was to-day actuated by the old rebel spirit, and north, south, east and west, was the party of fraud, oppression and overriding justice.

Mr. Hale of Maine, to expedite business, moved a resolution that the roll of states and territories be called, and the chairman of each delegation shall name its members of committees in the following order: On Permanent Organization, on Rules and Order of Business, on Credentials and on Resolutions. Adopted without objection. The roll was accordingly called and the committees named.

Mr. McCormick of Arizona, moved a call of the roll of states and territories for the presentation of credentials and for notice of contests, and that such papers be referred without statement or debate to the committee on credentials. Adopted.

Notices of contests were given from Alabama, Utah, Illinois and Louisiana.

Five hundred tickets were ordered to be issued to the Veteran's Association.

A recess was taken till 11 o'clock on June 3rd.

Mr. Conger of Michigan, was made chairman of the committee on credentials, by 29 to 11.

Gen. Garfield was made chairman of the committee on rules and order of business.

11:30 P. M.—When the committee on credentials convened to-night, after transacting some preliminary business, it was decided to take up the contest in alphabetical order, under which rule Alabama was the first case called. The credentials of James N. Rapier, under the hand of the chairman of the Fourth Congressional District, were presented, and after hearing argument pro and con, the committee by a vote of 31 ayes to 12 nays, (three not voting,) decided that Rapier was entitled to a seat. The vote in this case shows the complexion of the committee.

The following manifesto is published this morning:

"We the undersigned delegates to the National Convention from Pennsylvania, knowing that the sentiment of the Republicans of said state, is largely against the nomination of Gen. U. S. Grant, for President, and having the best interest of the Republican party at heart, and desiring honestly to represent our constituents, hereby pledge ourselves to vote against his nomination." Signed by twenty-three delegates.

There has been a serenade to Senator Bruce, and he is pressed for Vice-President.

The National Committee yesterday decided that neither of the Louisiana delegations should be admitted to the temporary organization of the Convention.

A Grant caucus was held, John Wentworth presiding. This caucus lasted till midnight. Conkling made a speech urging the Grant men to stand firm.

JUNE 3.

At midnight Mr. Kirkhawes concluded the presentation to the committee on credentials of his side of the case of the contesting delegations. He not only claimed that the committee should seat the twenty delegates from the ten contesting districts, but that it should declare the seats of the four delegates at large vacant, on the ground that they were chosen by the State Convention, in which a majority had been obtained by the improper exclusion of the regularly appointed delegation from Cook county.

In a speech in the Grant caucus Mr. Boutwell claimed 325 to 380 delegates for Grant.

Conkling said there was no use in concealing or perverting the facts. It was time now to look the matter squarely in the face. Not more than 300 votes were assured for Grant on the first ballot. They need not count on more, unless they secured them hereafter. He advised, however, that they hold together through the first, second, and to the tenth ballot if necessary, but not to yield. They would eventually worry out their opponents and win. They would neither offer nor accept of a compromise. Breaks would come from the other candidates and then they would gain converts.

Chairman Cessna of the Pennsylvania delegation offered to turn the vote over to Edmunds.

Four of the Kentucky delegation will disregard instructions.

Smith and Warner, Sherman delegates are admitted from Alabama.

EVENING SESSION, 5:25.

Animated debate sprang up as to the report of the committee on credentials.

Mr. Sharpe's motion to instruct the committee on credentials to report on contested seats was rejected, ayes 316, nays 406.

The question recurring on the motion of Mr. Brandagee of Connecticut, to instruct the committee on credentials to report, it moved to lay it on the table was agreed, and the convention adjourned till 10 o'clock to-morrow.

The committee on credentials has voted to admit sixteen contesting delegates from the First, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Ninth, Tenth and Seventeenth Congressional Districts of Illinois, and passed the contests in the Second and Fourteenth Districts, to allow Gen. Raum to produce further facts concerning them. The committee then considered the contests in the Second and Third Districts, and voted —27 to 10—to admit the Grant delegates from both Districts.

THE NEW MARSHAL'S BILL.

The following is the bill regulating the appointment of Marshals which has recently passed Congress:

"Be it enacted, &c., That from and after the passage of this act the pay of all deputy marshals for services in reference to any election shall be $5 for each day of actual service, and no more.

"Section 2. That all deputy marshals to serve in reference to any election shall be appointed by the Circuit Court of the United States for the district in which such marshals are to perform their duties, in each year, at the term of court next preceding any election of Representatives or Delegates in Congress; but if from any cause there should be no session of the Circuit Courts in the states or districts where such marshals are to be appointed, then, and in that case, the judges of the District Courts of the United States are hereby respectively authorized to cause their courts to be opened for the purpose of appointing such deputy marshals, who shall be appointed by the said district courts; and the officers so appointed shall be in equal numbers from the different political parties, and shall be well known citizens, of good moral character, and actual residents of the voting precincts in which their duties are to be performed, and shall not be candidates for any office at such election; and all laws and parts of laws inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

"Section 3. That the marshals of the United States for whom deputies shall be appointed by the court under this act shall not be liable for any of the acts of such deputies."

In a little village in Virginia there lived a family named Ransom. They were not pious people, and they never went to church. Once, however, during a revival, the family were prevailed upon to attend preaching.

When they made their reluctant and tardy appearance the services had begun, and they had scarcely taken their seats when the preacher gave out the first hymn, reading it somewhat thus:—"Return, ye ransom' sinners home."

"All right!" cried the head of the Ransoms, getting up in a rage, and clapping his hat on his head. "Come along, old woman and gals; we'll go home fast enough, and everybody in the old church knows we didn't want to come."

A wag who had lent a minister a horse that had run away and thrown the clergyman, claimed credit for spreading the gospel.

DECORATION AT THE NATIONAL CEMETERY.

The annual celebration over the graves of the Union dead took place on Monday, the 31st of May. There was no procession this year, and such persons as pleased went of their own accord, and although the gathering was comparatively small, it was one of the most satisfactory which has been had in any year.

Col. Geo. L. Mabson, a colored gentleman of character and training, who rarely misconcieves the proprieties of an occasion, was the Master of Ceremonies, and presided with grace and dignity. Many of the most respectable of the colored people were present, and the Rev. Mr. Saunders, of the First Colored Presbyterian Church, made an opening prayer singularly fitting to the occasion, and the choir of that church furnished the music

There were present Col. E. R. Brink and wife, the Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements, to whom great credit is due for the preparations; Capt. Charles E. Taylor and wife, and Mrs. Gen. Manning, Rev. Mr. Dodge and ladies, Capt. F. M. Wooten and wife, Gen. Abbott and wife, Geo. Z. French, Esq., E. H. McQuigg, Esq., Col. Daniel Khen, and others whose names we did not learn.

Sergeant Taylor, the officer of the government in charge of the cemetery, had caused the lawns to be shaved, the shrubbery to be trimmed and everything put in the best order. Flags were placed on all the graves. The National Cemetery was at its best, and is in fact the most beautiful spot in the city, and the landscape gardening shows more art and taste than almost anything within the city limits.

Capt Gabrielson of the Cutter Colfax, at sunrise put his flags at half-mast, and trimmed his beautiful ship with bunting appropriate to the occasion. While the ceremonies were in progress at the cemetery minute guns were fired from the Cutter, which added to the solemnity of the occasion.

Of the address by the Rev. D. D. Dodge, we cannot undertake a synopsis. Mr. Dodge spoke without notes, but certainly not without careful preparation. He submitted observations eminently fitted to the occasion, and his discussions upon subjects suggested by the surrounding circumstances were scholarly and sometimes eloquent.

After the address and joining in the Doxology and the benediction by the Rev. Mr. Saunders, and strolls around the charming grounds, there was a general movement towards town.

Fight to Win.

There are 80,000 colored voters in Georgia, and 130,000 whites. A full vote will be polled this year, and not one colored man in a thousand will vote the Democratic ticket. Admitting that there will be fair elections, that every Republican will be permitted to vote and have his vote counted, and that 25,000 whites from various causes may not vote at all, from 15,000 to 20,000 must be had to enable the party to march to victory. These white votes we believe can be had. These votes we are working for, and from the present outlook we judge that the last one of them will be polled in next November. The Democratic party in the state is going to pieces. Very many of its best men have raised the standard of revolt. The self-seeking, the fraud, the hypocrisy that has been developed in these ten years of Democratic rule; the broken pledges, high rate of taxation, the character of legislation, the exodus of the whites and blacks alike from the state, the depreciation of property and a hundred other things have served to fill the hearts of the people with distrust and disgust. Now is the time to move on the enemy's works. If we charge him 100,000 strong he cannot withstand the onslaught.—Atlanta Republican.

Increasing Use of Compound Oxygen by Physicians

A large and steadily increasing number of intelligent physicians in all parts of the country are using Compound Oxygen in Chronic Cases which they have not been able to cure with ordinary remedies. Writes one: "I shall make the Oxygen Treatment a prominent feature in my practice, for I have tested it sufficiently to satisfy me of its merits." Says another: "I do know that my patient is a hundred per cent. better, and is gaining rapidly. His left lung was almost consolidated, but is now free except in one small spot." Another physician who sold it in his own case says: "I was relieved the first time I used it, of a very severe catarrh trouble; and my lung trouble promises to be a thing of the past." Writes another: "I am thoroughly convinced that the Compound Oxygon is what we need in a vast army of Chronic Diseases." We could give columns of extracts from our correspondence with physicians who are using this new Treatment, all of the same tenor. If you wish to know what Compound Oxygen is, and what it cures, send for our Treatise on its Nature, Action and Results. It will be mailed free. Two Hibernians were passing a stable which had a rooster on it for weather vane, when one addressed the other thus:

"Pat, what's the reason they didn't put a hin up instead of a rooster?"

"An' sure," replied Pat, "that's aisy enough. Don't ye see it would be unconvanient to go for the eggs?"

STATE NEWS.

The Roan Mountain Republican:

The Legislature of North Carolina, in creating a Board of Agriculture, ought to have furnished the money to enable the Board to advertise in the newspapers of the state, and not have placed the commissioner in the position of a mendicant, begging publishers to advertise for the state gratis. Why should the state dead-head on newspapers any more than merchants or other business men?

The Surry Visitor addressing the respectable and independent men of the state says:

Either the people have got to take hold of the helm, or the office-holders will run the old ship of state on the breakers, and build up an aristocracy on the ruins of this once glorious Union. Now or never is the time for you to show your patriotism. Has the the spirit of your ancestors ceased to pulsate within you, that you do couch and cower as a "belabored hound beneath his master's lash?"

Spirit of the South:

Owing to the drouth and consequent lack of water, the Great Falls Factory has been unable, during the past few days, to make more than half time. And at the time we write, (Friday morning,) we see no indications of rain.

The Gastonia complains that many white emigrants are leaving Gaston county for the northwest.

The Edenton Clarion discussing education says:

Important and necessary as the University of North Carolina is. Important and necessary as Davidson, Trinity and Wake Forest Colleges are. Important and necessary as are all the good schools for male and female scattered all over our state, yet these are no more important and necessary than our public schools. A thousand to one of the worlds population are poor. Few of the people can enjoy the advantage of college and high school education. And shall the poor be denied the advantage of popular education, be allowed to grow up in ignorance and vice and descend to a level with the tenant of the woods?

The Asheville Journal raises the question whether Lt.-Gov. Robinson will not run for Congress as an independent against Gen. R. B. Vance, Democrat.

A fog bell struck by machine, has been established at Roanoke River Light station, mouth of Roanoke river, Albemarle Sound, and will hereafter be sounded, during thick and foggy weather, at intervals of fifteen seconds. The bell is located on the east side of the lighthouse.

WAYNE COUNTY REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The Republican Convention of Wayne county, pursuant to a call of Col. George T. Wassom, chairman of Wayne county Executive Committee, assembled at the Town Hall in Goldsboro on Saturday, 29th day of May, at 12 m.

There were full delegations from every township and from the five wards of the city.

Col. Geo. T. Wassom called the convention to order, and in a brief but eloquent speech explained the object of the meeting, and gave assurances of success in the coming state and national contests; and at the conclusion of his remarks he put in nomination W. S. O'B. Robinson, as chairman of the convention, who was unanimously elected.

Mr. Robinson on taking his seat, addressed the convention on the duties of the hour, and counselled harmony.

On motion, Mr. Jonathan Pearson was unanimously elected secretary.

On motion, it was resolved that the chair appoint the delegates and alternates to the State Convention.

The chair then appointed the following gentlemen:—John W. Smith, Jerry Mendenhall, Julius C. Stevens, and on motion, the chairman, Mr. W. S. O'B. Robinson, was added to the delegation, as delegates; and W. H. Edgerton, W. Crumpler, Jr., John Reid and Henry Foy, as alternates.

On motion, the convention proceeeed to the election of delegates and alternates to the Second Congeessional District Convention, which resulted in the election of Edwin G. Copeland and G. T. Wassom, as delegates; and George H. Grantham and Benj. Barnes, as alternates.

On motion, an executive committee of the county was then elected.

On motion, it was resolved that the proceedings of the convention be published in the WILMINGTON POST, Raleigh Signal and Raleigh Republican.

After the business of the convention had been transacted, Gov. Brogden, who was present, was loudly called upon, and in response addressed the convention at some length and in a forcible and eloquent style; he was loudly and enthusiastically cheered throughout, and at the conclusion of his speech, it being the sense of the convention that it would be a most useful campaign document, the convention passed a resolution unanimously requesting the Governor that his speech be published in pamphlet form.

On motion, the thanks of the convention were tendered the chairman, secretary and Gov. Brogden.

On motion the convention then adjourned.

WAYNE COUNTY REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Pursuant to a call of the Republican Ex-Committee of Wayne county, the delegates elected by the townships, precincts and wards met in convention at the Court House on Saturday May 29th. The County Ex-Committee, viz: E. B. Jordan, N. G. Holland, J. F. Yelverton, Gard Coly, Geo. W. Walser, Lewis Best and William Bryant, being present, Mr. Jordan of the Ex-Committee called the meeting to order stating that a convention had been called by the Ex-Committee to meet here to-day for the purpose of electing two delegates and two alternates to the Republican Congressional District Convention, to meet in Goldsboro the 1st day of July next, to elect four delegates and four alternates to the State Convention to meet in Raleigh July 7th, 1880, and for the nomination of candidates for the various county offices.

He moved that C. A. Scott be made temporary chairman, which motion was carried, and Mr. Scott took the chair. On motion James Tabron and J. F. Yelverton were made secretaries. The chair stated the first business was to ascertain who were delegates and asked how this should be done. The secretaries having finished the roll call and examination of credentials reported that there were twenty-one townships, wards and precincts in the county, each being entitled to three delegates maksixty-three delegates in all, eighteen of which were duly represented by fifty-one delegates. [The names of the delegates given in the report are omitted, but the number is given.]

The report of the secretaries was unanimously adopted. The chair then declared that a large majority of all the townships, wards and precincts were duly represented by a large majority of all the delegates in the county, and announced that the convention was ready for permanent organization and for transacting the business for which it had been called.

THE WILMINGTON POST.

WILMINGTON, N. C.,

SUNDAY MORNING, JUNE 6, 1880.

From the National Republican of May 31.

WHITTAKER'S CASE ENDED.

THE CONCLUSION OF THE COURT ANNOUNCED.

Seven Reasons for Believing the Mutilation Self Inflicted—No Other Person Could Have Done It—No One Had a Motive to Do It—Prof. Greener Defends His Friend—What He Says.

Findings and Opinion of the Court.

First—The court is unable to believe that such slight wounds as Cadet Whittaker received could have been inflicted by the persons in the manner and under the circumstances described by him.

Second—It does not see why a man with his surroundings and in his condition and frame of mind, as shown by his own evidence, should have submitted to an assault, such as is alleged, without summoning assistance during the assault or immediately thereafter.

Third—It believes a person tied as he was and left as he claims to have been could have readily released himself, should he exert himself to do so.

Fourth—From the testimony of the post surgeon and others the court is compelled to believe that Cadet Whittaker was neither asleep nor insensible when he was examined on the morning of April 6, but that he was feigning.

Fifth—The court is not able to discover any motive that any person other than Cadet Whittaker could have had in making such an assault, and there is no evidence whatever to warrant the belief that any other person did make it.

Sixth—It believes that the hair clipping, the flesh cutting and the binding could all have been accomplished by Cadet Whittaker himself.

Seventh—The theory that the note of warning is an imitation of Cadet Whittaker's writing is, in the opinion of the court, untenable. The severe tests to which the experts in handwriting were subjected and their positive testimony place it beyond doubt that Cadet Whittaker himself wrote the note of warning, and therefore that he is not ignorant of the person or persons engaged in the affair. This latter conclusion is strengthened by the fact that one-half of the sheet of paper on which this note is written was found in Cadet Wittaker's possession.

Opinion—After the strong array of circumstantial evidence from the testimony of the experts in handwriting, and from the conflicting statements of Cadet Whittaker and lack of veracity evinced by him in certain cases during the inquiry as shown by the evidence, the court is of the opinion that the imputation upon the character of Cadet Whittaker referred to in the order convening the court in the official reports of the commandant of cadet and the post surgeon is fully sustained.

When the report was sent to General Schofield and carefully read by him, he caused a letter to be addressed to Colonel Lazelle, commandant of the corps of cadets, directing the arrest of Cadet Whittaker, and placing him in confinement in his room. The order was promptly carried out, and Whittaker will remain under arrest until this case is disposed of, and a guard will keep him under surveilance. An officer of high rank being asked what disposition would be made of him if the findings of the court are approved by the war department, replied: "If he was a non-commissioned officer, he would be tried by a court-martial, as urged by Recorder Sears in his address to the court. But it is probable that if the president approves, he will be dismissed from the academy or be turned over to the civil authorities." Whittaker still protests his innocence. The finding of the court will be forwarded to the war department to-night by mail.

What Professor Greener Says

Professor Greener has arrived home from West Point. Of the Whittaker inquiry and the findings of the court he says the result is no surprise. Whittaker has been pre-judged on supposition, assumption, insinuations and expert testimony, upon which, according to military law, "little, if any, reliance should be placed." The academy dexterously shifted the responsibility by having Whittaker call for a court of inquiry, instead of having it come from the president. In the former case Whittaker alone is the accused; in the latter the whole corps of cadets, Whittaker included, would have been on trial. The whole inquiry has been a pure inquisition, worthy of the old days of thumb-screw and rack. The findings are vague, mostly belief with slight regard for evidence. No one is presumed in law to injure himself, but Whittaker is so presumed by this court. He submitted to the assault through fear and made no great alarm probably because he knew he had no friends there. If there is no evidence that any other person committed the outrage there is none that Whittaker did it. The court thinks he could have freed himself. Burnett sitting up with feet free and hands not bound so tightly broke the bands with the greatest difficulty. Lieutenant Knight tied them to a chair and demonstrated conclusively their great strength. Whittaker was on his back with hands and feet tied. The court believes that he could have cut his own hair and bound himself, yet the two post-barbers testified that he could not have so cut it. Experts in handwriting are credited, although two of the present five nearly sent Phillips, of Montreal, to the penitentiary, but expert barbers can be disproved by the recorder and the court. There is no resemblance to Whittaker's handwriting in the note of warning, either in general characteristics or specific. As to the pantaloons, they were evidently put in his room while he was absent. There was every facility for so doing. Professor Greener says he intends to follow the case up with the secretary of war, and has the promise of being heard in his criticisms upon the methods and procedure of the court of inquiry.

LIVER PILLS

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. MCLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

Artesian Wells.

San Francisco is largely supplied with water by artesian wells, of which it is said there are not less than two hundred in the city. While in London and elsewhere it has been observed that the supply of each well decreased in proportion to the increase in the number of wells, such an effect has not been observed in San Francisco. In some of them the water is reached at a very small depth. One of the hotels is supplied by a well thirty-eight feet deep. Another has a well sixty feet deep, furnishing six thousand gallons of water per day. A candle factory has a well one hundred and sixty-eight feet deep, which gives a supply of ten thousand gallons per hour. The "Chronicle" has been putting up a building, for which a new well is being bored, which is expected to supply eight thousand gallons per day. One reason for the large number of artesian wells in the city, has been the extortionate rates charged for water by the corporation through which the city has received its supply. Like nearly all the corporations of California, these water companies have exhibited an insolent and rapacious disposition.

A Yankee having told an Englishman that he shot, on one particular occasion, nine hundred and ninety-nine snipe, his interlocutor asked him why he didn't make it a thousand at once, and be done with it.

"No," said he, "not likely I'm going to tell a lie for a single snipe."

Whereupon the Englishman, rather "riled," and determined not to be outdone, began to tell a long story of a man having swam from Liverpool to Boston.

"Did you see him?" asked the Yankee.

"Why, of course I did. I was coming across and our vessel passed him a mile out of Boston harbor."

"Well, I'm glad you saw him, stranger, 'cause you're a witness that I did it. That was me."

Living With a Broken Neck.

A curious case occurred here the other day, (says the Omaha Bee.) A mail carrier was driving past a train of cars when his horse became frightened and ran, throwing him so that he struck on his head. It was noticed that the man's head was twisted, and that he was unable to move it, but nothing serious was suspected until, after a few days, a thorough examination was made, when it was discovered that his neck had been dislocated between the axis and atlas. No operation was performed, and during the night the neck slipped back into its socket, and although very ill, the man will probably recover.

The story is told of a negro who prayed earnestly that he and his colored brethren might be preserved from what he called their "upsettin' sins."

"Brudder," said one of his friends at the close of the meeting, "you ain't got the hang of dat ar word. It's besettin', not upsettin'."

"Brudder," replied the other "if dat's so, it's so; but I was praying de Lord to save us from the sin of intoxication, and if dat ain't an upsettin' sin I dunno what am."

The poor girl had endeavored for weeks to get rid of her bow legged suitor, and Sunday night, as the young man was seen perambulating towards the house, a red flag with these words was raised in front of the door. "Yellow fever. This house is quarantined." A startled look, a jump, a run, and the young man was seen no more. Girls situated in the same way are advised to try the ruse.

Ye Pimpled, Blotched and Ulcerated Victims of scrofulous diseases, who drag your unclean persons into the company of better men, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and purge out the foul corruption from your blood. Restore your health, and you will not only enjoy life better, but make your company more tolerable to those who must keep it.

The Charleston Democrat says:—As yet, Gen. Gary is the only one who has pledged to stand by the nomination of the convention. He has been made to render his personal servility to a parcel of contractors, traders and hucksters, who have not hesitated to betray the party, by bargaining with the enemy.

"Thank God for a free Gospel," said an old church member, suddenly carried away by the eloquence of the preacher. Five-and-twenty years have I been a member of the church, and it has not cost me as many coppers." "May the Lord forgive your stingy soul!" said the preacher.

Dr. HARTER'S IRON TONIC

W. P. HILL, Crockett Station, Tenn., writes: "DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC has done wonders here. A lady who had been doctored nearly to death for several years, has been cured of Debility and Great Prostration by the use of DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC, which raised her from her bed, where she had been lying for many months."

Dr. Harter:—Mr. James Brown of our county, has requested us to tender you his grateful acknowledgments for the great benefits his wife received from the use of your IRON TONIC. He tells us that, after having paid three or four hundred dollars doctors' bills, two bottles of your IRON TONIC did her more good than all other medicines she ever used. She was troubled with Derrangement of the Womb, Whites, etc., from which she is much relieved.

Is a compound of the virtues of sarsaparilla, stillingia, mandrake, yellow dock, with the iodide of potash and iron, all powerful blood-making, blood-cleansing, and life-sustaining elements. It is the purest, safest, and in every way the most effectual alterative medicine known or available to the public. The sciences of medicine and chemistry have never produced so valuable a remedy, nor one so potent to cure all diseases resulting from impure blood. It cures Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Pimples and Face-grubs, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter, Humors, Salt Rheum, Scald-head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Mercurial Disease, Neuralgia, Female Weaknesses and Irregularities, Jaundice, Affections of the Liver, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility.

By its searching and cleansing qualities it purges out the foul corruptions which contaminate the blood, and cause derangement and decay. It stimulates and enlivens the vital functions. It promotes energy and strength. It restores and preserves health. It infuses new life and vigor throughout the whole system. No sufferer from any disease whicharises from impurity of the blood need despair, who will give AYER'S SARSAPARILLA a fair trial. Remember, the earlier the trial, the speedier the cure.

Its recipe has been furnished to physicians everywhere; and they, recognizing its superior qualities, administer it in their practice.

For nearly forty years AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has been widely used, and it now possesses the confidence of millions of people who have experienced benefits from its marvellous curative virtues.

JEWELRY

$75.00 worth for $15.00

—) AND A (—

Solid Abysinian Gold Watch

FREE!

The above offer is genuine, although at first sight you would consider it impossible. We will explain: Since we first established our business here, March 1st, 1878, we have paid particular attention to the buying of Bankrupt and Auction Lots of Jewelry and Watches, often buying at as low as one-tenth their value, and in no instance have we paid over one-sixth the manufacturers' price. Since starting we have always been able to dispose of these goods in Chicago and throughout our regular customers throughout the country at nearly regular prices, as fast as we could procure them, but owing to the large number of failures among the heavies dealers and manufacturers throughout this and other countries during the months of June, July and August (the time when the Jewelry business is stagnant), we have now on hand an immense stock of the most desirable goods we have ever handled, and which we have bought at lower prices than ever before. In order to dispose of this entire stock in the most speedy manner possible, and make room for new one which we shall continue to buy, we have hit upon the following novel plan:

We propose to give you a list of the most desirable of these goods, giving opposite each article its regular retail value, and sell to you at the rate of Five Dollars' worth for $1.00. For instance, on receipt of 50 cts. we will send you, POSTPAID, any article to the value of $2.50; on receipt of $1.00 articles to the value of $5.00, and so on throughout the entire list. Below we give a list of the most valuable of these goods.

From personal inquiry and on the recommendation of the city press, we think our friends can do no better when wanting goods in that line. Give them a trial."

The American Stockman, Sept. 11th, says: "We believe this institution perfectly sound and responsible, and consequently persons need have no hesitation about sending for what they desire."

As to our responsibility we also refer you to the following firms: Blomgren Bros., 162 & 164 So. Clark St., Chicago, Ill.; Miller, Wagner & Umbdenstock, 119 So. Clark St., Chicago, Ill.
